Scheduled Staff Development Days (Non-Instructional Days)

The Board of Education (Richmond) requires that non-instructional days be used for the improvement of the learning situation. They are intended as an opportunity for teachers to pursue professional activities related to the School District's educational philosophy, goals, organization, teaching methods, or curriculum. Staff involvement in planning such activities is required.

Non-instructional days are to be in accordance with Regulations of the School Act, and the conditions of the current school calendar relating to the minimum "in-session" requirements. A non-instructional day is defined as a prescribed school day on which teachers only are normally in attendance.

All non-instructional days shall be subject to the approval of the Board.
